So, yeah, it sounded like it was getting to be a more serious incident, so I slid out there. What I'm trying to clarify is nobody directed you to go, is that correct? Not that I recall. Nobody ordered me from

You get assigned the boulevard or you get assigned different places, and I believe my assignment that I can recall five years ago; I don't really remember was the boulevard, Revere Beach Boulevard. So you were doing overtime work? Yes, I was. And your patrol in that overtime duty was Revere Boulevard? I believe so. I don't know the exact patrol. I understand. Would that boulevard area normally be within the patrol area of the A5 barracks? Yes. Is that something that's commonly done, where you might fill a need of another barrack's on overtime?	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	Q A Q A Q A Q	Not that I can recall, just pretty much an accident. That was a poor question. Any other information about the nature of the accident over the radio? You know, I don't recall if there was anything else said. Were you directed to respond to that scene? No, I just said I'd go. I'd just slide up there. I wasn't ordered, if that's what you mean. I wasn't ordered by anybody to go up there. Okay. So you went on your own? I mean, at some point there could have been it could have turned into a more possibly on the radio, it could have said possible PI, Revere Fire in route. So, yeah, it sounded like it was getting to be a more serious incident, so I slid out there. What I'm trying to clarify is nobody directed you to go, is that correct?
